To Mrs. W.F. Lown, we dedicate this 1957 Mabico. Her warm, friendly manner has endeared her to all who know her. Though a busy housewife and mother, she takes an active part in school life and works part-time in the business office. At her desk or in her home, she is always ready to assist in any way, and is filled with a desire to serve Christ. Because of her humble spirit, she often does not receive the recognition she deserves, and we take this opportunity to recognize her service to the Lord and to M.B.C. She is, like Dorcas, a woman of good works serving her Lord in this place.

These men have the responsibility of making the decisions and determining the policies of the college. They are Christian men from the business world as well as the ministry.

M. B. C. Staff and Families

President Lown

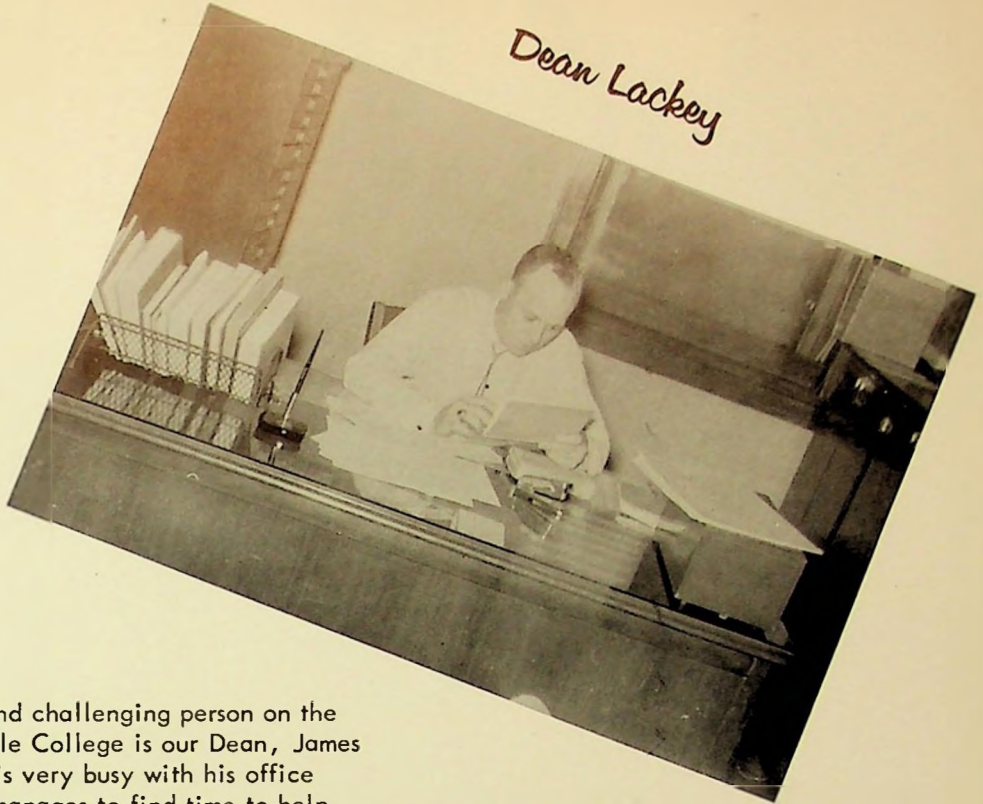

His inspiring Christian character and consuming zeal to further the kingdom of Christ make President W.F. Lown a man who is admired, respected, and loved by all who know him. During the two short years of his administration, Manhattan Bible College has been strengthened numerically and spiritually in his witness for Christ.

In the classroom, the president's sincerity coupled with his warm sense of humor make him a well-liked and an effective instructor. The caliber and down to earth nature of his teaching are highlighted by his ability to communicate zeal and to instill within the hearts of his pupils a vision of Christ's Church victorious over all the world.

President Lown's faith in the future of Manhattan Bible College through the grace and guidance of God is equalled only by his faith in Christian young people. He takes a personal interest in each student. Because of his warm personality and genuine interest, he is an accessible friend whatever the occasion. With such a leader to guide us, how can we but forge ahead with determination in our preparation to answer the call to take to all the world Christ Jesus.

Dean Lackey

A very inspiring and challenging person on the staff of Manhattan Bible College is our Dean, James Lackey. Although he is very busy with his office work and classes, he manages to find time to help those who need his guidance. As a man of such high ideals, he is a challenge to all who know him.

Dean Johnson

Following in the steps of his father, Dan Johnson joined the staff of Manhattan Bible College this year as Dean of Students. A faithful follower of Jesus Christ, he is a fine Christian example to all with whom he comes in contact. Devoted to his work and to God, he spends much of his time helping the students. Christian workers are needed throughout the whole world, and in order to train students for this work, we must have good Christian leaders. Through him, may this school continue to grow, and may it be richly blessed by his leadership.

"The Manhattan Bible College Hour"

The Council continued this year its project of a weekly devotional broadcast over Station KMAN. The project was supported by the chapel offerings.

COUNCIL

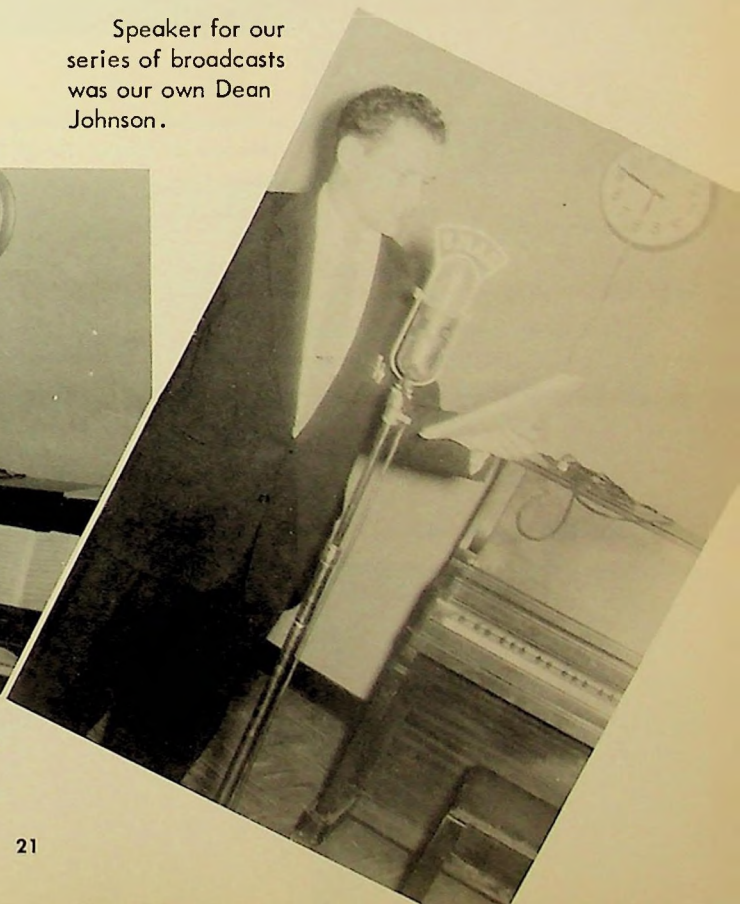

Sammy Brake, student from Syria, made recordings of scriptures which he read in his native language. The recordings were broadcasted by the Christian Radio Mission.

Speaker for our series of broadcasts was our own Dean Johnson.

Music is featured weekly on the radio program. Pictured is Carolyn Schoepf as she sings over the air.

One of the greatest experiences of college life is the experience of living together in a dormitory. Memorial Hall, the girls dorm, is located just west of the college. Here many lasting friendships are made. Each person becomes a part of one big family, and each learns to share responsibilities, as well as her problems with others.

One of the most inspiring phases of dorm life is the evening devotions. By taking time out for a few minutes each night, we are drawn closer together as well as being drawn closer to God.

Of course we have to have a little fun, too. Every now and then someone pulls a prank on someone else, and we learn to take them in a joking way.

Through this fellowship together in both work and play, a person finds that dorm life in a Christian college is an experience which will not be forgotten

Christine House

Fellowship with Christian friends and quiet moments with God combine to make life at the Christine House a hilltop experience in the life of every freshman young man at Manhattan Bible College. It is a Christian home away from home with a foster mother, Mrs. T.H. Johnson, widow of the former President of M.B.C., who loves and cares for her boys as if they were her own. Study sessions, pranks, the sharing of ideas, a touch of housekeeping, and nightly devotions draw the family closer together and closer to the Lord. Life at the Christine House is a close fellowship with Christian friends which will last for a lifetime.

Sundoulai, which is the women's organization of Manhattan Bible College, meets once a month at the home of one of the faculty members. It serves to bring both the married and single women together in a closer fellowship. Mrs. T.H. Johnson has been the sponsor ever since the organization began. Mrs. Lown has helped sponsor it the past two years.

This years officers are: President, Margie Moore; Vice-President, Eileen Violet; Secretary, Imogene Moyer; Treasurer, Betty Jo Duncan; Student Council Representative, Illa Mullins.

Among the projects of this organization have been to buy another guest book for the entrance hall of the college and help buy furniture for the reception room of the girls' dormitory.

The men's organization of M.B.C. has three very noble ideals as its watchword. The three Greek letters by which they are known stand for hope, honor, and truth. It is in accordance with these ideals that they have undertaken the tremendous task of planning and carrying out the M.B.C. Day program annually. Under the able leadership of their president, Neil Bock, and the M.B.C. Day chairman, Rodney Hinkle, E.T.A. has endeavored to make this special day one which will encourage other youth to dedicate their lives to the principles of hope, honor, and truth. At the right are pictured the personnel which made M.B.C. Day a success in 1956.

C.V.L.

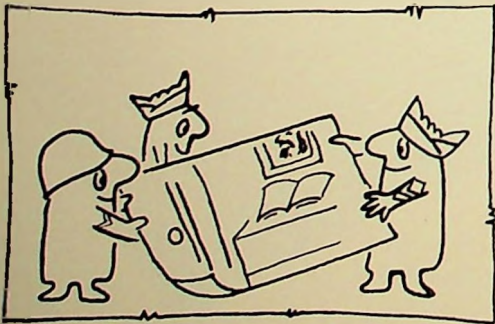

Since the close of World War II, M.B.C. has had a great number of dedicated ex-servicemen who have passed through her halls. These men have joined together in an organization of Soldiers who are now enlisted in the Lord's Army. The Christian Veterans League has been active in improving the facilities of M.B.C. This year they changed the location of the Prayer Room and enhanced its appearance by hanging some new velvet drapes. The new location of the Prayer Room is just off the Chapel platform.

Preachers

One of the most important phases of college life here at Manhattan Bible College is that of student preaching. Each week-end there are many students who go out to serve churches over the state of Kansas, as well as some in Nebraska and Missouri. Student preaching gives the students the experience while they are learning. It also provides churches with ministers which ordinarily would not have any. Some of the students have regular churches which they serve, while others have supply pastorates and fill in at different churches. There is a great need for students who are willing to serve the Lord by carrying the Gospel to others.

Mabico Staff

Working together as a team of Christians with a job to do has been an enriching experience for every member of the Mabico Staff. In producing this book, we have an opportunity to serve as well as to learn. Our purpose is to give the students of M.B.C. a record of another memorable year and to give prospective students an idea of the wonderful life of the M.B.C. family.

Hard work, undaunted enthusiasm, and the untiring efforts of Coach George Lespagnard have combined to give M.B.C. a basketball season of which to be proud. Though the record in the win and loss column is not impressive, the team has displayed the Christian spirit of fair play and good sportsmanship. Especially commendable is the fine job done by Coach Lespagnard during his first year at M.B.C.
